TRAINING EXPLAINED

Chain Saw Training: Volunteers receive training in the safe operation of a chainsaw and the cleanup that follows. Each volunteer must successfully cut a tree according to the standard taught in class. Chainsaw teams provide a practical service and spiritual ministry for homeowners during recovery. Cost is $65.

Chaplain Training: Volunteers receive training in crisis intervention and ministry to persons in crisis in the context of Southern Baptist Disaster Relief. Disaster relief chaplains provide a ministry of presence and support to those who have survived disasters. Cost is $65.

Mass Feeding Training: Volunteers receive training in the operation of a mass feeding kitchen as a part of a disaster relief response. Mass feeding units provide hot meals to feed survivors, first responders, utility crews, and other relief volunteers. Cost is $35.

Shower and Laundry Training: Volunteers receive training in setup and operation of shower and laundry units in disaster response. The laundry ministry of disaster relief helps to make it possible for volunteers and disaster survivors to have clean clothes. After a long, hot day of work in a disaster field, a shower is such a blessing. Shower units provide this support. Cost is $35.

Administration Level 1: Volunteers receive training managing volunteers in database and deployment information. Administration teams track and coordinate incoming and outgoing volunteer teams, resources, in-kind donations, and job orders. Cost is $35.

Childcare: Volunteers receive training on managing childcare in disaster relief settings. Volunteers must pass a background check for childcare. Our children's response teams provide a safe and loving environment for children who have experienced a crisis.
